

SISAL

These wallcoverings are made by craftsmen. Plant fibres are selected, washed, sun-dried and hand woven on traditional looms. Production "speed" is 25 m (27 yards) per day.

Characteristic of this natural product, are the irregularities in aspect and thickness of the wallcovering, as well as the differences of shades and colours, from one batch to another, but even from one strip to another. These irregularities are part of the charm and unique character of the product.

The collection contains a wide range of plains, and 2 printed designs in different colours. Width of the product is 90 cm, pretrimmed, and the wallcovering is delivered cut length (no minimum order required - order cut to the requested length).
